

Broadway

By: Jaylen Lindsey

The curtain opens with lights shining bright
Far from this sleepy town I will do what I love reaching new heights
I will sing and dance on the stage maybe performing in "Wicked" or "Rent"
Resumes will be sent
My determination will never be bent

Its opening night there are no jitters for me
Then crack jokes funnier than James Corden's best on tv
I tap to a great catchy Broadway song that I studied at rehearsal
I want to be immortal my talent known universal
Everyone knows to make it is hard work and mistakes are not reversal

I love the smiles in the audience they fill me with joy
This is the one dream career I know that I will enjoy
I smile when I think of the stage, the songs, the dances and the sets
Trust me I know there will be a lot of sweat
Don't worry I will be ready and have no regrets

One day I will sing on that stage and have a spotlight on me
I plan to have a musical theatre college degree
I will try to get all A's and study really hard
When I get to that stage to all my teachers I will send a thank you card
Until then , hello Broadway to you I am giving my regard
